April 6, 1945
Germany -

my Darling wife,

How are you tonight honey? I am very lonely for you tonight sweetheart. I miss you so very much honey. Maybe it is because I love you so much. my Darling I will be so happy when this damn war is over and we can come home to be with each other for the rest of our lives. Darling all I want to do is be with you forever and ever.
I am going to lock my arms around you and hold you so long you will probably starve to death before I let you go. But I'll be giving you lots of love honey, so you can live on love for as long as you want too. I Love you more than

How do you like my stationary Honey? the Grants gave it to me. ^{Ha} Darling what in the world were you doing with your breeches legs rolled up in the middle of winter. ^{Ha} you might catch cold or even worse.

Honey the snap shot at Carlton ranch was very cute. I love it.

Say Honey didn't ever tell you how pretty you are? you are the most beautiful woman I have ever seen honey, and just think, I am lucky enough to have you for my sweet Darling wife. Honey I am the luckiest man there is, in Love. Because to have you love me, is the best thing that has ever happened to me. I Love you Darling wife.

Darling you probably wait behind me but I am not drinking tonight. I prefer to sit and write to you Honey. Here's the story. Today we captured a house with about a train load of whiskey in it. Every body and his brother has a bottle. Boy are they High.

Surely we haven't gotten any mail lately but I read the letters I received the last time. I have gotten all of them up to 69 now.

Honey I must close now because there is too much disturbance. I'll try to write again tomorrow.

Goodnight my Darling. I Love you.

All my Love, forever & ever Your Devoted Husband
 I Love you

"God Bless you Sweet."

Bob
